

Telling your friends about Jesus.

Do you find it hard to tell your friends about Jesus? Here are some ideas to help you.

Tell them a Bible story about Jesus. (It may be one you've just read; or one of your favourites; or a story that taught you something you didn't know about Jesus.)

Ask them who they think Jesus is. (And listen to their answer!) Then tell them who you believe Jesus is, and why.

Make a list of three people you'd love to tell about Jesus.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

Now pray for them, and ask God to help you tell them about Jesus. He will!

Tell them how it feels to have Jesus as your friend. Perhaps you could explain how knowing that Jesus is with you helps when things are tough.

Is one of your friends worrying about something? Tell them how praying helps you when you're worried, and then ask if you can pray about the thing they are worrying about.

Invite them to come to church or a Christian group with you. If you invite them to church on a Sunday morning, maybe they could have lunch with you afterwards.

If your friend wants to find out more about Jesus, you could invite them to church with you, or give them something to read. 'Who will be King?' and 'Why did Jesus come?' are both good. How about going through one of these with your friend?

Have any of your friends read 'The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe', or seen the film based on that book? Ask them what they think of Aslan, and then tell them how Aslan is like Jesus. (He's good, noble and strong, and so loving that He died to rescue Edmund from the White Witch.) The leaflet 'Beyond the wardrobe' may help you.

Don't worry if you're feeling nervous. Most of us feel the same way! But if you tell God that you want to tell other people about Jesus—even if you also tell Him that you're really scared, and will need lots of help!—then God will give you opportunities to tell people about Him. Why not talk to Him about it now...

What happened with that hassle at school?

Well, er, I talked to God about it and an amazing thing happened...
