

The Star Maker

WRITTEN BY HELEN BUCKLEY ILLUSTRATED BY JENNY BRAKE

The Star Maker

Preview Copy

In the very beginning there was nothing. Nothing at all.

Except... the Maker. He was there. He's always been there.

In the beginning the Maker

SPOKE

And His words were so

POWERFUL

that whatever He said,

HAPPENED.

Just like that.

In the beginning the Maker spoke and...
there were two great lights.

In the beginning, the Maker made the sun.

In the beginning, the Maker made the moon.

How amazing.
The Maker is so powerful.
He is so clever.

He also made the stars.

How amazing.

The Maker is so powerful. He is so clever.

There are LOTS of stars.

Have you tried to count them?!

There are about 10 billion stars
in the whole universe!

Wow!

The Maker is so powerful. He is so clever.

What a Maker!

One day the Maker stepped down from

His home in Heaven and became... a man!

The Maker became a man.

How extraordinary.

A man... an ordinary-looking man.

In fact, the Star Maker became a little tiny baby. Tiny enough to fit inside a lady's tummy.

Small enough to sleep in an animal's food box.

The Maker is Jesus.
Jesus, the Son of God.
Jesus, the Maker of the sun and the moon.

Jesus, the Maker
of the stars.
Jesus, who is so powerful.
Who is so clever.

Jesus the Star
Maker became a man.

And one of the stars that
He had made shone in the sky to show where He was.

That star in the sky was like a giant party popper.
A massive birthday banner.

The Star
Maker is here!

On earth.
God with us.

And so, that very first Christmas,
Jesus the Star Maker became a man.
A little baby. And the Star Maker lay underneath the star that He had made.

What a thing! How extraordinary.

Why did He do it? Why did the Maker of the stars step down onto the earth?

Why did He say goodbye to His wonderful home in Heaven and come to live among ordinary people?

People like us.

Because the Star Maker grew up.

He grew up to do a job.

The Maker who gave up His Heaven,
gave up His life.

He died on a cross.

When Jesus died on that cross He looked weak. He was hurting. People couldn't see that He was the Star Maker.

But it was there on the cross that
Jesus was doing something wonderful.

Something amazing.
Something extraordinary.

He was rescuing
His people.

He was making a way
for us to be put right.

To be friends with God Himself.

The Star Maker didn't stay dead.
Death could not hold Him.

HE CAME ALIVE

Alive forever.

There is no other way.
There was no other plan.
The Star Maker became a man.

In the beginning Jesus spoke.
He made the sun. He made the moon.
He also made the stars.
How amazing. Jesus is so powerful.
He is so clever.

Look up at the stars.
Remember the Star Maker. Jesus.
The Star Maker who was born.
God with us.

Preview

Find this story in the Bible in Genesis 1 and Matthew 2.

For Mikey, Dan, Jemima, Bella, Ollie and baby Christmas...

Because we love you.

And because the Star Maker really loves you!

The Star Maker

Text and Illustrations © 2015 Helen Buckley and Jenny Brake.

All rights reserved. Except as may be permitted by the Copyright Act, no part of this publication may be reproduced in any form or by any means without prior permission from the publisher.

Published by 10Publishing, a division of 10ofThose Limited.

ISBN 978-1-910587-39-3

Typeset by Diane Warnes.

Printed in the UK.

10ofThose Limited, Unit C Tomlinson Road, Leyland, PR25 2DY

Email: info@10ofthose.com

Website: www.10ofthose.com

In the very beginning there was nothing.
Nothing at all. Except... the Star Maker.

The Star Maker made everything. He even made the stars.
But one day the Star Maker stepped down from Heaven and made His home under the stars He had made.

This beautifully illustrated retelling of the Christmas story will help children be amazed and excited that Jesus the Star Maker became a small baby.
All for the love of the people He had made.