

Make Your Own Comic Book

Like Billy, you can create your own comic book. It's a fun way to tell a story while practicing your art skills, too!

Instructions

1. Fold several sheets of paper in half. Put them together to make a mini book.
2. Put staples in the foldline to keep it all together. You might need an adult to help with this!
3. Think of a main character. Maybe... a brave camper? A silly raccoon? A superhero?
4. Think of what might happen to that character. What is the beginning, the middle, and the end of your story? Below are some story title ideas to help you!
5. Once you know roughly what will happen, draw boxes on each page for comic panels. These can be different sizes. It's up to you.
6. Draw pictures in the boxes showing the story.
7. Add speech bubbles and write in words the characters say.
8. Give your comic a fun title.

Extra Fun

- Make your comic funny.
- Add sound words like "SPLASH!" or "CRASH!" sometimes, instead of speech bubbles.
- Share your comic with family or friends.

What You'll Need

- Paper
- Long-armed stapler
- Pens or crayons

Ideas for Objects

Lost at Camp!

Mystery of the Missing Canoe

The Pumpkin Man Saves the Day!

The Great Ropes-Course Challenge

