

Do Great Things for God

Free Resources Pack

Living in Mississippi, “Mother Hamer” left school at six and was subjected to the racist “Jim Crow” laws. She and her friends marched for the right to vote and became known as “the Freedom Fighters.” Fannie was imprisoned and beaten but eventually was able to speak to the Houses of Congress in Washington, D.C. Having won the vote, Mother Hamer helped bring people out of poverty and stood up for the right of unborn children to be born and to be loved.

What is the Voting Rights Act of 1965? How did Fannie play a role in its development?

Name 3 things Fannie's "Freedom Farms" allowed black men and women to do for their families.

Who were 3 key figures of the Civil Rights Movement?

Family Project: Freedom Farms

With God's help, Fannie Lou Hamer not only fed and housed Black people in her community, but she gave them the opportunity to grow their own food and live in their own homes for the first time. As you learn about Freedom Farms, read and discuss Matthew 25:35-40 and Genesis 1:27 together to learn about how valuable each person is to God.

Day 1: Overview

- What are Freedom Farms?

- When and where did Fannie start the Freedom Farm Cooperative? Locate it on a map.

- Do Freedom Farms exist today? Where?

Day 2: Food

- What sorts of things were/are grown on Freedom Farms?

- Who ate the food grown on these farms?

- If you can, start a small garden in your own yard or in a window box. You could even plant a single seed from your favorite fruit or vegetable in a pot and watch it grow inside!

Day 3: History—The Freedom Farm Cooperative (FFC)

- What were the FFC’s 3 big goals?

- What types of crops were originally grown on Fannie’s Freedom Farm?

- What group offered a large donation to the FFC? What did the FFC do with that money?

- The FFC shut down in 1976, but its legacy lives on today! Name a few examples of modern food organizations that uplift Black communities.

Day 4: Housing

- The FFC didn’t just build farms. They started something called the Delta Housing Development Corporation and built houses too! How many houses did they build?

- What did these homes have that most homes in the area didn’t have before?

- How many families were able to live in these houses?

- Do you live in a house, flat or apartment? What about it are you most grateful for?

RIGHTEOUSNESS EXALTS
A NATION, BUT SIN
IS A REPROACH
TO ANY PEOPLE.

PSALM 14:34

Freedom Farm

Print, color and cut out these garden markers to label the crops in your own "Freedom Farm"! You can eat the produce at home or deliver it to a local food bank. To learn more about Freedom Farms, download the family project on our website.
